Strong Testimony against Tilton

New York, August [illegible].—During recent years [illegible] Tilton['s] treatment of his wife, according to [illegible], [illegible] has been marked by frequent [illegible] ... [illegible] the alleged [illegible] ... [illegible] and Beecher [illegible] ... [illegible] whose names were [illegible] given to the Committee by Mrs Tilton [illegible] ... [illegible] Beecher [illegible] ... Mrs Tilton [illegible] ... [illegible] think Beecher is guilty of adultery.

Mr Tilton also [illegible] that Tilton on one occasion, when he was [illegible] in a rage, [illegible] ... [illegible] so closely that she fell [illegible] he was about to strike her; so also thought another person, a young woman who was in the room; she rushed in between them to prevent Mr Tilton's striking his wife, and received such a blow from his clenched fist that she fell to the floor, striking her head upon the side post of the parlor door as she fell and receiving severe injuries.

The Times says Mrs Tilton in her examination Friday night denied the charges against her, especially the alleged touching of her ankle by [illegible]. [illegible] the bedroom scene, she only [illegible] ... [illegible] sitting with [illegible] ... [illegible] in a short time, when [illegible] returned [illegible] Mr Tilton and Beecher in the same place where [illegible] left them in the bedroom.

Singular Statement concerning Attorney-General Williams

New York, August [illegible].—A Washington [illegible] the Herald says [illegible] was rumored on Friday that a serious accident had befallen Attorney General Williams. A telegram was sent to the [illegible] ... [illegible] Williams [illegible] ... yesterday and [illegible] ... the Postmaster General [illegible] by telegraph the postal car difficulty requiring the attention of the Attorney-General immediately. No one could give information or even conjecture what had befallen him. No explanation of the mystery has been made.

Complications between France and Germany.

New York, August [illegible].—A Herald's special from Paris states that serious complications have arisen between Germany and France concerning Spanish affairs, and that a diplomatic rupture between these powers is threatened.

Miscellaneous News

New York, August 3.—Justice Riley gave a decision [illegible] virtually dismissing the complaint for libel against Tilton. Moulton has not returned. He cannot be found.

Lost and Found

Attorney General Williams has returned to Washington.

The testimony in the Beecher-Tilton case will probably be closed to-morrow.

Young Walworth, the murderer of his father, has been declared insane and committed to an asylum.

Rumors Concerning Intervention.

London, August 2.—The Standard says the report that England, Germany and Italy have agreed to watch the Spanish coast is denied. Germany has not proposed intervention to Austria, but the latter is ready to join other powers in the acknowledgment of the Spanish republic.

OREGON

Union, now possessing the dignity of a shire town, proposes to widen her streets.

It is understood that a postoffice in the Wallowa valley will soon be in full operation.

The Episcopal Church of La Grande is progressing. A few days more and it will be enclosed.

The contract for building the M. E. church at Union, Union county, was to be let last Saturday.

During last week several loads of grain passed through the town of Union for Camp Harney.

Green apples, from Walla Walla, raised this season, are selling at Pendleton for five cents per pound.

A French gentleman living in Eastern Oregon, who spells his name Schwydrienazki, will soon leave for Europe.

Mr Sanford, who lives south of Pendleton, has lately sold 1,800 head of sheep to Messrs Frazier & Curtis for $2.50 per head.

The farmers of Eastern Oregon are busily engaged harvesting. The wheat will hardly average as well as last year's crop did.

Mr Abbott of Sams Valley, Jackson county, started for Stein's mountain with a band of 150 head of cattle on Tuesday of last week.

The Meacham road through the Blue Mountains is said to be in better condition at present [illegible]. [illegible] Foster has had four men engaged nearly all summer in keeping it in repairs.

Col James A. Hardie, Inspector General of the Modoc war accounts, arrived in Jacksonville the fore part of last week, and is busy settling the many accounts coming up before him. Lieut. Stone from Walla Walla is assisting him.

Two Union county men left Union for Nevada last Monday week with nearly 500 head of cattle, consisting of yearling heifers, cows and cows with calves. They purchased their drove in Grande Ronde Valley, paying $7 and $8 per head for yearlings, $12 for cows and $14 and $16 for cows with calves.

From the 15th day of September, 1873, to the 15th day of July, 1874, the Island City Mills, Union county, have manufactured and sacked flour to the amount of 2,400 sacks of 50 pounds. There was exchanged with farmers 4,000 sacks. The mill still has on hand 4,000 sacks and wheat for 6,000 sacks more.

Dr. [illegible] Hardesty of Pilot Rock recently sold 3,000 pounds of wool at 20 cents per pound, delivered in Portland. His band of sheep averaged five pounds of wool a piece. Henry Stover, living near Pendleton, recently sheared over 1,700 head of sheep and sold 10,000 pounds of wool for 21 cents, delivered at Umatilla Landing.

The La Grande Sentinel says: "About 18,000 bushels of wheat is the sum total of the [illegible] of wheat on hand in Union county, [according] to the Assessor. Making due allowance for forgetfulness, etc., the amount on hand is really about 30,000. With only a half crop this year the price of wheat will probably take a slight rise, but not enough so [as] to [be] oppressive to consumers."

The Union Times of the 1st says: "Several freight teams passed through town yesterday, stopping long enough to supply themselves with grain and provisions. The lead team was loaded with nearly sixteen thousand pounds of merchandise for Mormon Basin, was skillfully navigated by J. G. Thompson, and [illegible] assured from the head of the lead horse to the hind end of the wagon was over one hundred and twenty feet."

The Pendleton Tribune says: "A son of Win[illegible]shoo—a wild fellow—got into a row last Sunday with another Indian and came near having his pipe put out. It seemed that this son of royalty has several wives, and about a twelvemonth ago he traded one of them off [illegible] back [illegible] and went to [illegible] River Valley [illegible]. Not long [illegible] ... [illegible] to Powder River [illegible] with his own back [illegible] a [illegible] horse [illegible] ... [illegible] the Baker county Indian notwithstanding the Leecherizing process [illegible] the scion of aboriginal royalty drew a revolver and would have let the daylight through his corpus had he not been prevented by the friends of Win[illegible]shoo's son."

Effects of a Tarantula Bite.—At the County Hospital, Stockton, Wednesday, a young man recently bit on the hand by a tarantula and brought to the hospital for medical attendance had his arm amputated. The amputation was necessary to save his life.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

San Francisco, August 3.—The work of tearing down the old building at the corner of California and Montgomery streets, to make way for the building of the Safe Deposit Company, is progressing rapidly. There will be a [illegible] burglar proof safe in the [illegible]. [illegible] the contract for the furnishing of which has been awarded to D. C. [illegible], Norris & Co., [illegible], Ohio, at about $60,000. The new building will be ready for occupation in about six months. J. H. Duncan, one of the Directors of the Company, is General Manager of the work, which will be the most extensive of any in the United States.

The former Colima, from Panama, brought [illegible] passengers and $[illegible] treasure. She spoke the steamer Colima entering Panama as she came out.

Weather warm and pleasant.

Alfred Laraf and [illegible] VanBrunt, of the Oleomargarine Butter Co., have been indicted for forgery and bail of each fixed at $1,000.

Seamans, convicted of assault and battery on [his] wife, was fined $40 to-day in the Police Court.

The steamer Newbern on her next trip to Colorado river will take down seven companies of troops for Arizona.

The railroad from Saucelito to San Rafael was formally opened by the Directors and about 75 invited guests Saturday last. Passenger trains are not yet running, but will be in a few days.

The P. M. S. S. Colima arrived this morning from Panama and way ports.

Greenbacks, 91½.

San Francisco, August [illegible].—John Mott, stabbed by [illegible] yesterday, [illegible] to be mortally wounded. He was alive at last account. There are about thirty [illegible] ... [illegible] to-night in connection with this and the [illegible] case.

San Francisco, August [illegible].—The National Gold Bank and Trust Company will pay a monthly dividend of $1 [illegible] on the 8th inst.

The British steamer [illegible] arrived at Hongkong to-day. She experienced a heavy typhoon on the way out, but sustained no damage.

The mining shares market exhibited some tone to-day and there was a firmer feeling in nearly all descriptions following the rally in Consolidated Virginia.

Antone Hunckler, accused of the murder of his mother, has been discharged by order of the Supreme Court.

Four persons were committed to the Insane Asylum from this city to-day, two being women.

Another young woman, Miss Hubert, was arrested for insanity as she was in the act of committing suicide by jumping out of the [illegible] story window of a building on Washington street.

San Francisco, August 3.—The case of Tiburcio Vasquez has been removed for trial from San Benito to Santa Clara county.

The contract for furnishing beef to the Government in Arizona has been awarded to a New Mexican firm at 2½ cents.

San Francisco, August 3.—It is reported that a contract has been made for furnishing flour to the San Carlos Reservation, Arizona, at $6.75. The contract for supplying sugar has been awarded to Head & Co. for 25 cents.

Interior California.

Hollister, August 3.—The first District Court of San Benito county is now in session, Judge Belden presiding. The legal fraternity of Monterey, Santa Clara and San Benito counties is well represented. The first case on the calendar is that of the People vs Vasquez. P. B. Tully and C. B. Darwin, counsel for Vasquez, appeared and made a motion of change of venue, upon the grounds that he could not have a fair and impartial trial. The defendant Vasquez was not present, having filed affidavits to the effect that he could not safely appear owing to the violence and prejudices of the people, and that he was afraid of personal violence. The District Attorney, N. C. Briggs, in reply to this motion, said he was not prepared to say that such prejudices did not exist, whereupon the motion was granted and the case transferred to Santa Clara county. The Attorneys for Vasquez are evidently preparing to make a stubborn defense. Much dissatisfaction exists among the people on account of this change, and it is the general belief now that Vasquez will never be hung.

Stockton, August [illegible].—The election of the Stockton Fire Department to-day was very spirited for Chief Engineer, Jones Brown and John Nichols candidates. There were 20[illegible] votes polled. Nichols was elected by 24 majority. B. F. Kohlberg for First Assistant and James Freeley Second Assistant were elected by a large majority. The boys are having a general jollification this evening over the result of the election.

Watsonville, August 3.—A terrible accident occurred this afternoon at P[illegible] depot. A man named Chas. Miller, employed by [illegible] Stafford, [illegible] fell from a freight car and both his legs were badly crushed by the car. It is feared both legs will have to be amputated, and it is doubtful if he survives the operation.

Yreka, August 3.—William McMurran, a pioneer farmer of Little Shasta, near this place, and a most estimable citizen, died last Saturday evening from the effects of being run over by a wagon.

Sacramento, August 3.—Gov. Booth issued the following military commissions to-day: Fourth Regiment, Fourth Brigade, N. G. C., Hamilton W. Tham, First Lieutenant and Adjutant, vice self vacated by resignation of Col. C. V. Kellogg; Walter S. Hazelton, First Lieutenant and Quarter Master, vice self vacated by resignation of Col. C. V. Kellogg.

The statement of moneys in the State Treasury July 31st is as follows: Amount on hand, $1,[illegible]1,135.44; gold coin, $1,3[illegible],923; silver, $[illegible]; legal tenders, $9,[illegible]; warrants, $11[illegible].

Marysville, August 3.—Dennis Duffy died to-day at noon from the effect of a stab in his side inflicted by his brother-in-law, J. B. Kohr, last Saturday. The difficulty grew out of some family trouble, and the result is much deplored by the entire community. Duffy was engaged in the furniture business in this city and was a young man much respected.

UTAH

Salt Lake, August 3.—There has been considerable disturbance during the election to-day at this place and adjoining towns on account of disputes as to [illegible] voters—the challenges having been [illegible]. During the afternoon a deputy U. S. Marshal, Perry, was arrested and [illegible], but afterward liberated on a writ of habeas corpus. Several of the police were arrested during the day by deputy Marshals, and at one time there was a general melee of citizens and officers at Central precinct. After the closing of the polls this evening Peter Clinton, Judge of Election of Central precinct, and late Police Judge, and several more policemen were arrested by the U. S. Marshal. The charge against Clinton is that he carried off the ballot box at noon when he went to dinner; that against the police, of interfering with voters at the polls or creating a disturbance. An immense crowd followed Peter Clinton to the Territorial Marshal's office, and a riot seemed imminent when Gov. Woods addressed the assembled crowd, which soon dispersed. No more trouble is anticipated. The result of the election cannot be learned this evening.

Election in Utah for Delegate to Congress

Salt Lake, August 3.—The election for Delegate to Congress, county and town officers takes place to-day. Geo. Q. Cannon, the late delegate to Congress, has been renominated by the Mormons, notwithstanding the declaration of Congress that thereafter no polygamist would be allowed to take his seat. The Liberal party nominee as delegate is R. N. Baskin. There will be a strong vote cast, as every effort has been made by Mormons and Liberals to poll a full vote. The women are generally voting. The Mormon ticket will no doubt be successful in all but a few mining towns.

LETTER FROM SALEM

TO THE MOUNTAINS AND THE SEA [illegible]—THE WORK [illegible] THE CAPITOL [illegible] COMMISSION—THE CROPS—THE WORK OF THE STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY—ITS EARLY STRUGGLES AND FINAL [illegible]—[illegible] PREPARATION FOR THE FAIR OF 1874—THE CASE OF YOUNG [illegible] AND THE MURDERER

Salem, August 2, 1874.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Since my last the general cry of the citizens of this city has been [to] the mountains [illegible], and quite a number have gone thither. Salem is well represented at Salmon river, Tillamook, Astoria, [illegible], Cedar Camp and other summer resorts. From reports from the different places, they are all enjoying themselves greatly in fishing, hunting and camping over the mountains.

Yesterday the Commissioners suspended work on the

STATE CAPITOL BUILDING

On account of the exhaustion of the appropriation of $100,000 made by the last Legislature. Work was commenced on April 1st and has been pushed as rapidly as the weather would admit of. There has been used this season (approximately) the following amount of material: 1,500,000 brick, 1,400 barrels of lime and 500 loads of sand. There has been erected the north wing from the basement up to the capital of the windows [of] the first story, and the remainder of the building to the [illegible] of the windows. The structure is about ready for the joists and floors. The brick work, as far as mechanical construction is concerned, is a credit to any State, and has been pronounced by competent judges the best done on this coast. The Commissioners feel justly proud of their work. They have endeavored to employ only first-class workmen. The lime used is furnished by the Roseburg companies and the masons all pronounced it far superior to the lime brought from California. The Roseburg lime seems to possess the property of cement in a great degree, and is very adhesive, although it is not highly recommended for plastering, as it is of a dark color; but for stone and brick walls it cannot be excelled. One of the greatest items of expense incurred was the purchase of iron. This alone consumed $20,000, which was quite a hole in the appropriation, which if it could have been expended for labor very likely would have erected the walls quite, if not entirely, sufficiently to receive the roof. There has been an average of fifty men employed on the building since April 1st, and the amount paid for the same is over $21,000. Every man was yesterday paid up in full.

There was a movement made by some citizens of this city to request and urge the Commissioners to continue the work, and I have been told that some proffered to advance money for that purpose and take the future appropriation as security for the same, but the Commissioners refused to continue, as they understood the law as saying that when the appropriation was exhausted they should suspend and so report to the Legislature.

THE CROP

From my own observation and from conversations with the farmers of Marion and Polk counties I judge that the hay, oats and wheat harvest will be very abundant and of excellent quality. All are now busy reaping and garnering the same.

The Executive Committee of the

OREGON AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Have already commenced preparations for the State Fair to commence October 12th and continue six days. The Society last year seeded down a portion of their ground and reaped sixty tons of hay. This year they have cut seventy tons, and will have fifty tons to sell. It finds ready sale, as it is of excellent quality.

The Society was first organized in Salem February 22d, 1860. On that occasion Hon. J. Quinn Thornton was elected Chairman and the late Hon. Joseph Wilson Secretary. A constitution was adopted and a permanent organization affected by the election of Hon. W. H. Rector President, with Vice Presidents from every county in the State, and Hon. Lucien Heath (then Secretary of State) Secretary. The first Fair was held at Oregon City, commencing September [illegible], 1861, at which time Maj. Simeon Francis was elected President. The opening address was delivered by the President, Maj. Francis, and the annual address by J. Quinn Thornton. The Fair was very successful, and was highly gratifying to the originators, who had toiled so manfully to inaugurate this highly beneficial institution.

In the year following the Society, encouraged by the efforts of the people of Salem and Marion county, resolved to hold the second annual Fair at Salem, and since that time the exhibitions, under the management of the organization, have been regularly held at Salem. The Society, in accordance with a bond entered into with the County Commissioners of Marion County, agreed to hold their Fairs for the period of fifteen years on condition that a tract of 50 acres included in the ground is now occupied be given them. This contract will expire in July, 1879.

Since the grounds were located at Salem the Society has purchased from Mr. John Savage an additional tract of 5[illegible] acres and from Mr. P. [illegible] Riley 80 acres, so that they now hold and occupy for exhibition and camping purposes between 160 and 170 acres, which is located about one mile from Salem, the capital of the State. The Oregon and California Railroad passes within 60 yards of the Pavilion, and a platform some 100 feet in length, together with other conveniences for passengers and shippers, render it a suitable and convenient location. Some $4[illegible],000 have been expended on the grounds for building, and the grounds have been surveyed and laid off in streets, drives, etc., [for] future convenience in the location of new buildings contemplated by the Society.

On the [illegible] of March, 1870, the Society was regularly incorporated. Its growth from the late [illegible] organization in numbers and in the confidence of the public has been slow until within the last three years. Since 1870 the membership has rapidly increased, and the confidence of the public in its aims and purposes has been of equally healthy growth. There are now [illegible] over 200 annual members.

From the first year this Society has steadily increased in number and facilities for exhibiting the improvements in stock, machinery, the development of the agricultural and mineral resources of this commonwealth, and [illegible]. Nor has the home department been neglected.

These exhibitions have proved beneficial in other directions [illegible] ... [illegible] The Secretary of the Society [illegible] from which [illegible] the following extract, which will probably prove of interest to your readers:

The Society was from [illegible] 1861 and for [illegible] dependent entirely upon its own resources for [illegible], not one dollar having been appropriated by the State, while in nearly all the States of the Union [illegible] organizations [illegible] ... [illegible] which the Society [illegible]. In 18[illegible], [illegible]000 copies of a pamphlet of over 100 pages was published by the Society, containing valuable statistical matter [illegible] ... work [illegible] immigration to Oregon [illegible] distributed gratuitously throughout the Union. The Society had reason to hope [illegible] right to demand that the [illegible] publication should be continued [illegible] of the State; but until to-day this [illegible] has been denied, not so much on account of opposition to the demand as because matters of more importance of a few have taken the precedence. Besides this expense, involving an outlay of $1,500, the Society contributed $1,600 toward the establishment and binding up of the Willamette Farmer, that the laboring class of Oregon might have an organ free from political ties in which to interchange thought and relate experience. In the time named, too, and up [to] 1870, [besides] the outlay already recited, the Society has paid in cash premiums between $[illegible]0,000 and $[illegible]00,000, and expended in making excavations and the purchase of land not less than $20,000 more. It has in every way within its means contributed to the advancement of the agricultural and mechanical interests of our State and to its increase in improvement and population. Its every aim and purpose has been to the betterment of all interests of the laboring classes. Free from political or sectarian bias, it cordially invites to its membership every citizen of Oregon, and seeks to render its annual exhibitions not only attractive but promotive of good to every branch of labor and skill within our State.

[illegible] year the Society [illegible] have been working [illegible] the working classes, and [illegible] have adopted a rule [illegible] every member [illegible] entitling [illegible] or her shall receive a free ticket of admission, while on Wednesday of the Fair the children (under 15 years of age) of the public and the Sabbath Schools of the State will be allowed free admission to the grounds.

But for the terrible rain on the second and third days of the last Fair it would have proved a grand success, both financially and in number of attendance; but such things cannot be guarded against.

For several days there has been considerable excitement in regard to the case of [illegible] Ferrand, who is now under sentence of death and confined in our county jail. Numerous petitions for and several remonstrances against a reprieve have been circulated, and they have received numerous signers. But the general drift of the sentiment of the community has been and now is in favor of a commutation of the sentence. A great many signed the remonstrance and talked against the unfortunate young man because he was a half breed, [as] if he was accountable for his mixture of blood. While a great many are in favor of capital punishment, they are also in favor of Ferrand's being sent to the Penitentiary for life on account of his youthfulness. (He is but 17 years of age.) But the discussion was yesterday cut short by His Excellency Gov. Grover, who granted a stay of proceedings to Oct. [illegible], and until a hearing can be had in the Supreme Court, which may order a new trial. At least there is a glimmer of hope for the unfortunate youth.

THE TERRITORIES

The Boise county Fair will probably be held October 12th.

Hundreds of Eastern tourists are visiting Utah this summer.

Judge W. A. George has been elected City Attorney of Walla Walla.

Dr. Turner of Olympia fell down a flight of stairs at his residence a few days ago and was badly injured.

A Grange has been organized at Mt. Idaho, Nez Perce county. Wm. C. Pearson Master and J. H. Robinson Secretary.

The Olympia Courier says three-fourths of all the passengers on that railroad to and from Kalama get on and off the cars at Tenino.

The Walla Walla and Lewiston stage got into Snake river the other day, and a serious accident was almost miraculously avoided.

Mr. Keeper of Walla Walla, who was recently kicked by a horse on the leg, has been compelled to have the injured limb amputated.

A body of exceedingly rich ore has been struck in the main shaft of the Legal Tender mine at a depth of 203 feet. It beats any of the high grade ores yet taken from the lead.

The U. S. officers of Utah are getting the names of all persons in that Territory who have entered into polygamous contracts of marriage since the passage of the Poland bill.

The Eastern Oregon and Washington Conference began its session at Walla Walla last week, Bishop Merrill presiding. Rev. H. K. Hines was elected secretary and Rev. H. B. Lane assistant secretary.

A private letter from Silver City, Owyhee county, states that a man by the name of Pasco fell down the Minnesota shaft one day last week and was instantly killed—mashed all to pieces. Lon Anson broke his collar bone on Reynolds Creek on the 20th ult.

Jack McCoy, a notorious horse thief, stole a horse on the Palouse, took it to Lewiston and sold it for $60, and was subsequently captured and sent to jail, where he awaits a requisition from the Governor of Washington Territory.

A party of mountaineers is being organized in Montana to explore the new Geyser basin southwest of Mount Washburn, on the head of Wind river. It is said to contain Geysers compared with which "Old Faithful" is an infant.

Judge David Noggle, Chief Justice of Idaho, celebrated as an orthographist, is visiting at Janesville, Wis., his old home. It was David who spelled the name of [illegible], and whose general style of spelling surpasses in design [illegible] fonetiks.

Some Salt Lakers have recently discovered at the mouth of Big Cottonwood canyon a six foot vein of bath brick. It possesses great advantages over the imported article, being lighter, whiter and more durable. There is enough of it to supply the whole unscoured world.

During the month of May there were thirty births in Helena, the largest number ever recorded in a single month in that or any other town in Montana. Of this number more than three fourths were boys, which is perhaps a hit [at] the unfortunate when we contemplate the wonderful scarcity of females in that market.

The Lewiston Signal says: "It is reported that the excessive heat for the past few days has so damaged some of the crops north of here that fears are entertained of a considerable [illegible] ... it is said it has been scorched and dried up in the head by the sun. It has been [illegible] many days in some places no dew falling to give moisture."

The [illegible] of the U. S. Land office at Walla Walla for the month of July was as follows: 18 declaratory statements filed for 2,880 acres; [illegible] timber culture claims for 480 acres; [illegible] homestead applications for 1,640 acres; [illegible] final homestead proofs for 480 acres; and 1[illegible] cash entries for 1,383 acres. Total number of acres disposed of for the month of July, 4,[illegible]63 acres.

Benton still maintains her supremacy as the head of navigation on the Missouri. The arrival of the [illegible], one of the finest boats that ever ascended the Big Muddy, has surprised many, as it was generally predicted that she would not be able to reach a point above Cow Island on account of the low water. Her successful trip—the [illegible] of the season—demonstrates the fact that navigation on the upper Missouri for five or six months in the year is not to be counted among the impossibilities.

The Civil Versus the Ecclesiastical Power in Canada.—Montreal, July 25.—Intelligence has just been received that the celebrated Guibord case has been decided before the Privy Council in England in favor of the widow of the deceased. The dispute arose from the refusal of the Catholic Bishop to allow Guibord to be buried in consecrated ground, because he was a member of the Institut Canadien, a society interdicted by the Roman Catholic Bishop. The plea was that Guibord, owning a lot in the Catholic cemetery, had a civil right to be buried in it. The case had been in the courts here and finally in England, where the decision on the appeal has just been rendered.

Tweed and One of the Jury who Convicted Him.—New York, July 29.—[illegible] Rhodes Mays, one of the jury who convicted Tweed, writes a letter to the Commissioners of Charities and Corrections protesting against the favors and privileges granted to Tweed on Blackwell's Island. He states that while the jury was being empaneled efforts were made to corrupt the members by Tweed's friends, and not long ago he was promised something tangible and handsome if he would sign a petition for Tweed's pardon.

THE BEECHER-TILTON CASE.

TILTON'S LETTER TO BOWEN

The following is Tilton's letter to Bowen, given in Walker's statement before the Beecher Investigating Committee:

Brooklyn, Jan 1, 187[illegible].

Mr. Henry C. Bowen—Sir: I received last evening your sudden notices breaking my two contracts, one with the Independent, the other with the Brooklyn Union. With reference to this act of yours I shall make a plain statement of facts. It was during the early part of the Rebellion, if I recollect aright, when you intimated to me that the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher had committed acts of adultery for which, if you should expose him, he would be driven from the pulpit. From that time onward your references to the subject were frequent and always accompanied with the exhibition of deep-seated injury to your heart. In a letter which you addressed to me from Woodstock, June 16, 1863, referring to this subject, you said: "I sometimes feel that I must break silence; that I must no longer suffer as a dumb man and be made to bear a load of grief most unjustly. One word from me would make a rebellion throughout Christendom, I had almost said, and you know it. You have just a little of the evidence from the great volume in your possession. I am not pursuing a phantom, but solemnly brooding over an awful reality."

Subsequent to this letter, and at frequent intervals from then till now, you have repeated the statement that you could at any moment expel Henry Ward Beecher from Brooklyn. You have reiterated the same thing not only to me but to others. Moreover, during the year just closed your letters on the subject were marked with more feeling than heretofore, and were not unfrequently coupled with your emphatic declaration that Mr Beecher ought not to be allowed to occupy a public position as a Christian teacher and preacher.

On the 26th of December, 1870, at an interview in your house at which Mr Oliver Johnson and I were present, you spoke freely and indignantly against Mr Beecher as an unsafe visitor in the families of his congregation. You alluded by name to a woman, now a widow, whose husband's death you did not doubt was hastened by his knowledge that Mr Beecher had maintained with her improper intimacy. As if to leave no doubt on the minds of either Mr Johnson or myself, you informed us that Mr Beecher had made to you a confession of guilt and had with tears implored your forgiveness. After Mr Johnson retired from this interview you related to me the case of a woman of whom you said (as nearly as I can recollect your words) that "Mr Beecher took her in his arms by force, threw her down upon the sofa, accomplished upon her his deviltry, and left her." During your recital of this tale you were filled with anger toward Mr Beecher. You said with terrible emphasis that "He ought not to remain a week longer in his pulpit." You immediately suggested that a demand should be made upon him to quit his sacred office. You volunteered to bear to him such a demand in the form of an open letter, which you would present to him with your own hand, and you pledged yourself to sustain the demand which this letter should make, viz: "That he should, for reasons which he explicitly knew, immediately cease from his ministry at Plymouth Church and retire from Brooklyn." The first draft of this letter did not contain the phrase "for reasons that he explicitly knew," and these words, or words to this effect, were incorporated in a second at your motion. You urged, furthermore, very emphatically that the letter should demand not only Mr Beecher's abdication of his pulpit, but the cessation of his writing for the Christian Union—a point on which you were overruled. This letter you presented to Mr Beecher at Mr Freeland's house. Shortly after its presentation you sought an interview with me in the editorial office of the Brooklyn Union, during which, with unaccountable emotion in your manner, your face livid with rage, you threatened with loud voice that, if I ever should inform Mr Beecher of the statements which you made concerning his adultery, or should compel you to adduce the evidence on which you agreed to sustain the demand for Mr Beecher's withdrawal from Brooklyn, you would immediately deprive me of my engagement to write for the Independent, and to edit the Brooklyn Union, and that, in case I should ever attempt to enter the offices of those journals, you would have me ejected by force. I told you that I should inform Mr Beecher, or anybody else, according to the dictates of my judgment, uninfluenced by any authority from my employer. You then excitedly retired from my presence. Hardly had your violent words ceased ringing in my ears when I received your summary notices breaking my contract with the Independent and the Brooklyn Union. To the foregoing narrative of fact I have only to add my surprise and regret at the sudden interruption, by your own act, of what has been on my part a faithful service of fifteen years.

Truly yours, THEODORE TILTON

CARPENTER DENIES THAT TILTON BLACKMAILED BOWEN—VIEWS OF GREELEY AND SUMNER ON TILTON'S DOMESTIC TROUBLES

New York, July 29.—Carpenter, in his recent interview, denied the statement of Wilkinson that Tilton attempted to blackmail anybody, and explained the latter's claim on Bowen for money as follows: Bowen employed Tilton to edit the Independent and Union, making a contract for five years. The contract provided that in case Bowen should violate its term the forfeit should be six months salary in advance. Tilton was discharged, and he naturally expected Bowen would, according to the contract, pay him six months salary. The latter was left to arbitration. The arbitrators were Messrs Freeland, Claflin and Storrs, who examined the contracts and in a few moments decided that Bowen ought to pay the principal and interest to Tilton. "This," said Carpenter, "is the truth about the so called blackmailing operation of Tilton."

Carpenter also said that Horace Greeley and Charles Sumner had spoken to him of Tilton's case as follows: Horace Greeley said to me, "Nobody can make me believe that Theodore Tilton is a corrupt man, no matter what Mrs Woodhull says."

In March, 1873, when Sumner was sitting to me for his portrait, he spoke of Tilton in these words: "Theodore Tilton is a great writer, in the realm of genius. In reference to his domestic troubles, I doubt the propriety of longer silence on his part. I think the thunderbolt ought to fall." I said, "How can you say that when such interests are involved?" Mr Sumner replied: "I have been called into one such case, and I have seen the utter folly and futility of all measures to cover wrong."

THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE GETTING SICK OF THE SCANDAL

New York, July 30.—The Plymouth Church Investigating Committee had an extra session yesterday afternoon to hasten the conclusion of the inquiry. The Committee are getting heartily sick of the sluggish investigation, besides thinking that delay is injurious to the complete vindication of Beecher, who is said to be rapidly preparing his testimony for the Committee. Last evening he walked under the trees at Columbia Heights. He takes daily exercise in this way, but allows no one to approach him on the topic of the scandal.

MOULTON'S MOVEMENT

Moulton is still at Narragansett, and it is not known when he will return. Beecher has written to Moulton asking permission to examine for his own information such of his letters as are in his possession. Dr Storrs is expected to testify before the Committee to-night. Beecher will probably testify before the Committee in the latter part of the week, and his testimony will conclude the investigation.

THE LIBEL SUIT AGAINST TILTON

Brooklyn, July 30.—Judge Reilly has issued no subpena yet in the libel suit of Gaynor vs Tilton, as none has been applied for. Ex-Judge Morris, Tilton's counsel, says that Tilton is prepared to defend himself when the case is again called. Gaynor, the complainant, says if the case is called up in the Justice's Court he will have assistance in prosecuting such as the public does not expect. He has already a list of witnesses made out, including Beecher, Moulton, Carpenter and others, but not Mrs Tilton. If Tilton asks for an examination these witnesses will be subpenaed. He said further that he was privately informed that both Tilton's and Beecher's friends were uniting to prevent a trial.

THE HOUSE IN LIVINGSTONE STREET

The Argus says when Tilton found his wife had left her home and him he immediately had an agreement of separation executed between them on the basis that each believed the other to be in error, but that the future of neither should be unhappily cloudy nor the happiness of their children sacrificed. He also prepared to deed his Livingstone street residence to her. Mrs Tilton refused to agree to the contract of separation and proposed bringing an action against Tilton in court. On learning this he stopped preparations to convey the house as he had intended.

THE "ARGUS" ON TILTON'S ARREST

Brooklyn, July 29.—The Argus this afternoon, speaking of Tilton yesterday, says: "The effort of some over zealous and meddlesome gentlemen to have Tilton arrested in the manner it was done we think will be deplored by the friends of both sides. It could hardly have been instigated by the friends of Beecher, although appearing upon its face in their interest, for they had decided on a different course when they elected to proceed through an investigating committee. It is simply impossible, as has been charged, that Tilton was in collusion to procure his own arrest, for the making himself a defendant in a case puts it beyond his power to move it to trial. As to the officious intermeddling by other parties, except it be by strong force and by well known persons, it simply helps to complicate the case, heads off other legal proceedings which it may be found advisable to institute, and diverts the issue."

JOHNSON INTERVIEWED

A Tribune reporter called upon Oliver Johnson last evening and showed him the statement of Carpenter. The following conversation ensued:

Q.—Do you know anything of Carpenter's connection with the scandal and the time when it began?

A.—Yes, it began long before the time he names—May, 1873. He came to me about it as early, I think, as the latter part of 1872. He was a volunteer meddler and a partisan of Tilton. I heard of his gossip on various occasions. He says he was first brought actively into the case by Beecher, but he had been actively in it for at least a year before the time he names, and seemed to enjoy nothing so much as running about the city and talking to people on the subject. He has done more, I think, than any other man, save Tilton himself, to foster and propagate the scandal, and has from the first been the partisan rather than a true friend to Tilton, constantly lending himself to plans devised by the latter to keep the scandal from dying out.

Q.—Did you say in your testimony before the committee that Tilton had never in conversation with you accused Mrs Tilton of adultery?

A.—I did not. I was not interrogated on that point, as the official report of the testimony must show. I was asked only to say what offense Tilton charged Beecher with in his interview with Bowen, December 26, 1870, and I said he simply charged him on that occasion with having made improper advances to his wife, which she resented. On other occasions he used language which I understood to imply something worse, but I do not remember that he used the word adultery. He told me that he had forgiven Beecher and sealed his forgiveness with a kiss; yet, [illegible] now and then he used opprobrious language, calling him more than once a damned scoundrel, and evincing frightful bitterness and malignity. He told so many different and contradictory stories of the offense as to awaken strong suspicion in my mind at the time that he was either crazy or that the scandal had little or no foundation.

B. F. CARPENTER INTERVIEWED

New York, July 29.—The following was published in the Brooklyn Argus yesterday, as part of an interview with Mr B. F. Carpenter:

Reporter—Mr Johnson stated before the committee that Mr Tilton had never, in conversation with him, accused Mr Beecher of criminality. Did Mr Johnson ever intimate to you that Tilton had charged criminality?

Mr Carpenter—He has. To Mr Johnson and myself, as friends, Tilton has frequently talked over this matter. I had no reason to consider Johnson Mr Tilton's most intimate friend next to Moulton. Mr Johnson and myself often conversed about Tilton with mutual interest and sympathy for him. Johnson gave me my first absolute conviction that there was something criminally wrong between Beecher and Mrs Tilton. Johnson distinctly told me Tilton had charged adultery between Beecher and Mrs Tilton. This statement was made to me in July, 1873, at the foot of the stairs leading to the office of the Christian Union.

New York, July 28.—The Brooklyn Argus to-day prints part of an interview with Frank B. Carpenter on the subject of the Beecher scandal. Carpenter said he was first brought actively into the case by Beecher in May, 1873. Beecher sent for Carpenter, wishing him to come immediately to Brooklyn. Beecher had learned that Henry C. Bowen had retracted to Carpenter the charges which he had formerly made to Tilton against Beecher, and which he had withdrawn in the tripartite agreement, and that Bowen had said in the presence of E. D. Holton of Milwaukee, and Carpenter, that he did not wish them to understand that he had made a retraction. Beecher wished Carpenter to confront Bowen on these points. He went to Moulton's house. Beecher was not there, but Moulton said he wished Carpenter to go to Bowen's residence with Claflin and Moulton. They went, and Carpenter repeated, in the presence of Bowen, Claflin and Moulton, the statements made by Bowen to himself concerning Beecher. Bowen admitted all, and Claflin expressed his astonishment that Bowen should have told these things after signing the covenant. Claflin was the person who induced Bowen to sign the covenant. Bowen said he protested against making the agreement public. Carpenter said to Bowen that if the statements were untrue he should make a most unqualified public denial, but if true he should stand by them. Bowen had said to Carpenter that Beecher had made a confession to him, on his knees. Tilton and Moulton had been told by Beecher that this was a lie. Carpenter said to Bowen, "There is a direct lie between you and Mr Beecher, and for one I want to know the truth." Claflin thought Mr Beecher ought to be present at this interview. A few days afterward Carpenter saw Claflin, who told him that Beecher had said, "There is not force enough in Brooklyn to draw me into a private interview with Henry C. Bowen." Carpenter says that in his business relations with Bowen they had frequent conversations regarding his difficulty with Beecher. Bowen said Beecher's friend wanted him to sign a sweeping document declaring that his charges against Beecher were untrue, and that he refused. Claflin then urged him at least to sign a paper withdrawing the charges, and he consented. Carpenter gave the substance of the conversation between Beecher and himself June 1, 1873. The interviewer says the statements made in that conversation are, if true, of the utmost significance, but Carpenter will not make public this conversation unless called on to testify. One remark he made was, if Theodore would make certain disavowals he would share his fame and fortune with him and pour in subscribers to the Golden Age by the thousands. The interview of which Carpenter speaks occurred on the evening of the same day when Beecher wrote his touching letter dated Sunday, June 1, 1873. Great significance attaches to Carpenter's statement from the fact that Beecher's card exonerating Tilton from being his slanderer and defamer was published the next day, June 2, 1873. Carpenter says Tilton had no vindictive feeling against Beecher and tried hard before publishing the letter to Dr Bacon to find some means by which Beecher should free him from the imputations cast upon him by Dr Bacon. Before he [illegible] to publish the letter, Dr Bacon said to a friend of Carpenter's, "If Tilton publishes that [illegible] Plymouth Church does not reply to [illegible] twenty four hours by a suit at law [illegible] Tilton, they will have no case before the [illegible] public." More of this interview is to be [illegible]ed to-morrow.

The Brooklyn Union says that not half the evidence has yet been received by the [illegible] Investigating Committee; that Mo[illegible] be invited to testify, and that Mrs. Tilton, possibly Mr Tilton, will be [illegible]. Beecher will come in at the last. Mrs Tilton [illegible] the [illegible] view with Mrs. [illegible] will make no [illegible] ments. Mr Beecher will not [illegible] or to-morrow night. He must [illegible] original [illegible] of which he has no [illegible] said to-day that to the best of his knowledge nothing was [illegible] account of Tilton's [illegible] and not [illegible] him [illegible] Tilton's confession of criminality [illegible] understood that these [illegible] were made in an informal [illegible] in testimony. Another [illegible] ton said one afternoon that he was not [illegible] enough to testify, and desultory conversation ensued in which he made a [illegible] the confession of criminality. A [illegible] man said that Beecher's [illegible] most rigid.

TUESDAY MORNING AUGUST 4 1874.

HUXLEY ON THE WOMEN AND THE DOCTORS

Professor Huxley has stirred up another hornet's nest on the woman question Miss Jex Blake was admitted to the medical classes of the Edinburgh University, and went through the prescribed course of studies But she was not graduated This last named part of the performance she thought was contrary to the programme and she did not hesitate to speak her mind on the subject nor trouble herself with very much labor in the selection of words to be used for that purpose But the faculty gave another unexpected turn to affairs by the explanation they felt called upon to make in the premises These learned gentlemen said, in substance, they had come to the conclusion that the medical profession ought to be opened alike to male and female and had acted upon that idea in the admission of Miss Jex Blake, and that the young lady would have undoubtedly obtained the coveted degree of M D if she had entitled herself thereto by making the same conquest in the sciences that go to form a course of medical studies which were invariably required of male students but that she had failed to fulfill these conditions They refused to graduate her, not because she was not a man but because she was not a doctor

Miss Jex Blake appealed from the decision It will be naturally asked who has jurisdiction to entertain an appeal in such a case The people Miss Jex-Blake appealed to the people, and impanneled the world for her jury And in order to prepare certain gentlemen of acknowledged scientific attainments, among whom was Huxley, to be witnesses she submitted to them her examination papers and while they were studying her scientific productions she was using her talents to produce in the public mind a proper appreciation of her rights and wrongs But some of her witnesses are like Frank Moulton they decline to testify Not so is Prof Huxley He promptly gives his opinion upon her performances, and seizes the opportunity to ventilate himself on the cognate subject of woman's capacity in general, and the amount of general capacity requisite to secure a position in the medical fraternity In the first place he says that upon some of the branches required of its medical students by the Edinburgh University, he does not pretend to be competent to judge, and therefore cannot say to the world whether Miss Jex Blake ought to have passed or not in those branches, but that he does know something about natural history in its scientific aspect, and that her essay on that subject was far from being such a performance as should be accepted by any institution pretending to thoroughness This of course tickled the faculty and brought the Jex Blake down upon the great master of arts like a wolf on a fold Then, proceeding to air the subject of woman's capabilities in a general way, he repeated his St. [illegible] Wood speech declaring that, though the difference may be but small woman is [illegible] "intellectually, morally and physically" to man That got all the women who don't believe such stuff into his hair and they began to make it very tropical for him But he was imperturbable He proceeded to say further that admitting her inferiority to be as great as is generally supposed, the average woman would find it no very exhausting effort to acquire as much learning and skill as the ordinary medical practitioner possesses So Huxley has all the [illegible] tors in England pounding him all the woman reformers stinging him, and the Jex-Blake stirring up sedition against him among the semi scientific class who are always the scientifically noisy class

POLITICAL PURITY

In the telegram of Governor Ames to President Grant urging the latter to order a [illegible] of troops to Vicksburg for election purposes the Governor takes occasion to inform the President of the exact nature of the difficulties which call for the presence of the military This information is imparted in the briefest space possible 'The controversy is political"

No reasonably close observer of events, as they have transpired during the last two or three years, could have failed to know the 'controversy" was "political," purely political It was unnecessary for Governor Ames to mention the fact to the President unless they are correct who say the President habitually pays more attention to certain other subjects than to the state of the country Gov Ames must be one of those who entertain this idea of the President or he would never have taken the pains to remind him that the controversy is political

The course these political controversies have generally taken in the reconstructed States has been vastly different from that to which American citizens in other sections of the Union and in other lands have been accustomed The Republican party apparently became so strongly impressed with the necessity of its own ascendancy, while engaged in the work of reconstruction, as to consider that a State was not reconstructed till it has elected the Republican ticket, and that it ceases to be reconstructed the moment it loses its Republican majorities That was the trouble with Louisiana That was the trouble with Texas We were about to add Arkansas to the list, but that unhappy community appears to be suffering from such a complication of maladies that it would be rash to refer its troubles to any one cause It is manifest to the most superficial observation that the anxiety of the Mississippi politicians arises mainly on account of apprehensions of the result of the election being different from that which they desire There is danger of the loss of the talismanic insignia of the reconstructed condition, namely Republican majorities "The controversy is political"

The San Francisco Chr, speaking of the [illegible] "[illegible]" that the Church Committee can render will be at all satisfactory to the condemned party or parties nor to the world at large'

THE LATEST KIDNAPPING SENSATION

It is a singular story the telegraph tells about the mysterious disappearance of Attorney General Williams It would sound like a huge joke, only it is entirely too huge for a joke They are kidnapping children at Philadelphia and persons suspected of knowing a good deal about the relations between a celebrated preacher and an emotional member of his church, disappear from Brooklyn in an unaccountable manner but the unexplained disappearance of an Attorney General of the United States is quite another matter We don't believe Judge Williams has been kidnapped, and we won't believe it till advertisements for ransom shall make their appearance in the Washington papers And unless further developments shall change our conjecture we don't intend to believe this fuss has any foundation in fact It is the invention of some one of the sensation mongers that "lurk along the shores" of the Potomac The idea! "Strayed or stolen One large Attorney General light complexioned with rather prominent jaw high forehead" &c "A liberal reward will be paid to any person who shall" &c "Lost, somewhere on Pennsylvania Avenue a Cabinet Minister," &c Fudge!

LATER—The arrival of the second dispatch announcing the return of the Attorney General to his post of duty, proves our conjecture to have been correct and spoils a first class sensation The New York Herald can get up a first class sensation upon the fact that a Cabinet Minister has taken a drive in the park without notifying the world whither he was going

REPUBLICANISM IN MISSOURI

A St Louis dispatch of July 23 to the New York Times gives the following report of the proceedings of the Republican State Central Committee from which it appears the party spokesmen in Missouri have a clear perception of the situation

The Republican State Central Committee had two sessions here to day There was a pretty full attendance and after a free exchange of views regarding the present political situation of the State resolutions were adopted declaring that the present deplorable condition of affairs merits the serious attention of all good citizens, irrespective of party and to bring about the reform which is imperatively demanded they invite the co operation of all persons and organizations of whatever political faith to that end

They also pledge themselves as representatives of the Republican party to recommend to its members to support such movements or organizations as look to the accomplishment of good government in Missouri

They indorse the resolutions passed by the Republican members of the Legislature last March which recommended to the Committee in Congressional Districts and counties to act as they deem best in matters coming before them preserving intact the organization of the Republican party and declaring that in all fundamental principles all are Republicans but as issues now paramount are State issues and State safety they are willing to forego present partisan advantage for public good

Miss Susan B Anthony's story of the violence of Theodore Tilton is endorsed by Mrs Tilton with suitable additions and enlargements as appears from the testimony of that lady published this morning If Tilton's charges are true, he had enough to make him violent provided he has no more genuine manhood in his nature than allow himself to be provoked into personal abuse of his wife But true, chivalrous men never come to that point under any provocation There is another way open to those who find in their wives such faults as cannot be overlooked or forgiven If Tilton was guilty of the habitual abuse of his wife which her testimony portrays he is not fit to be the husband of a good woman If he could not treat his wife kindly he could have left her The single outburst of passion witnessed by Miss Anthony marked Tilton for a man wanting in strength but if the statements of Mrs Tilton are true he wanted principle also

Frank Moulton still fails to come forward and give his testimony in the Beecher Tilton case

CITY.

LICENSING OUR SALOONS.—The following is one of the principal sections of an ordinance relating to the regulation and licensing of bar rooms and drinking shops which has been prepared by the City Attorney of East Portland, read first time and referred by the Board to the Committee on Health and Police.

No person firm company or corporation having a license to keep a bar room or drinking shop within the city of East Portland nor any employe of such licensee shall give or cause or suffer to be sold or given any malt or spirituous liquors or wines to any minor under 18 years of age, or shall allow or suffer such minor to [illegible] remain in such bar room or drinking shop nor shall employ or permit any woman to act as waitress or bar tender or to sing or dance or serve in any other capacity in such bar room or drinking shop nor shall permit any breach of the peace or disturbance of public order or decorum by noisy riotous or [illegible] conduct on his or their premises nor shall sell or give any malt or spirituous liquors to any person already intoxicated, nor shall permit or suffer any gambling with cards or other device within or about such bar room or drinking shop and all licenses hereafter granted to keep a bar room or drinking shop shall be granted upon condition that such licensee shall observe and perform the foregoing requirements and [illegible] [illegible].

OFF FOR A FEW.—Elated over their recent success [illegible] the [illegible] the typos of this office at [illegible] hour last evening dropped their sticks and adjourned for a brief time to Alisky & [illegible], where in company with their late competitors and others directly interested in the sport which came to a close last Saturday, sat down to ice cream and other delicacies. The limited time allowed to dispose of the spread did not afford the participants an opportunity to display the humor which exists among the craft. However somebody had to speak a piece, and it fell to the lot of Messrs W S Cameron and Geo E. Strong representatives of the editorial staffs of the Bulletin and OREGONIAN. Their remarks [illegible] brief were well timed. Visions of [illegible] [illegible] the affair to a close and reluctantly the gathering retired [illegible] commend [illegible] the [illegible] who when they are not pressed can [illegible] time in the [illegible] manner. The [illegible] makes his last [illegible] and the game is ended likewise this brief mention of a most agreeable gathering of the craft.

SERVED THE WRETCH RIGHT.—A shameless fellow assuming the form of a man insulted a couple of respectable ladies last Sunday evening at the corner of Second and Yamhill streets in a dastardly manner. Fortunately for the ladies but unluckily for the coward, a gentleman happened to be crossing the streets who heard the insulting remark. He coolly walked up to the fellow, and without introducing himself gave him one straight from the shoulder which sent the brute sprawling to the sidewalk. After he recovered from the shock and surprise he rose to his feet but seeing the gentleman ready and waiting to repeat the experiment, the miserable fellow walked away and didn't have anything to offer. We understand this same creature has made a practice of insulting ladies in a public manner on the streets. Served the villain right.

ENGINE MOVED.—Yesterday the old steam fire engine belonging to Multnomah Company No 2 which has on numerous occasions in the past rendered such service and won a brilliant reputation second to none was removed temporarily to the wharf of the O S N Company. This was rendered necessary, as the old engine house has been sold and will be removed in a few days. Until the new brick edifice is completed and ready for occupancy hereafter when the bell taps the members of the company will rally to the dock. The new steamer belonging to Multnomah has been housed at No 3's since the fire which has rendered a new building necessary occurred.

ENTERED AND ROBBED.—On Saturday evening the house of Lobly Hyate just west of the North School was entered and burglarized during the absence of the occupants. The burglar effected an entrance by climbing up a ladder which leaned against one side of the house and crowded through a skylight which happened to be open at the time. A small China cabinet was taken away which contained money and jewelry to the amount of $300. The burglary was evidently perpetrated by one acquainted with the premises. No clue yet.

ANOTHER LARGE WAREHOUSE AND WHARF.—The contract was let on last Saturday by Messrs Holman Cutlin & Lowndale for the erection of a grain and produce warehouse and wharf on the river at the corner of Salmon and Front streets. This is certainly a most excellent and long needed improvement for that part of the city. The building and wharf will be two stories and built very strong. The dimensions will be 125 feet on Front street by 1[illegible]0 feet deep, and capable of storing 1000 tons. Messrs Wemott & H[illegible] are the contractors.

DEDICATED.—Mr P S Hill the gentlemanly and efficient advance agent for the Madame Bishop troupe has recently written a piece of poetry entitled [illegible] which has been set to appropriate music composed by Prof Brenner. The composition—words and music—has been dedicated by the authors to Madame Bishop and we learn that the great cantatrice will render it during the series of concerts to which the public are to be treated during the present week.

SET AT LIBERTY.—Six persons who were arrested for drunkenness Saturday and Sunday were set at liberty yesterday morning on the payment of $5 [illegible] and costs. These parties were [illegible] out on bail. As the Police Judge was absent the Chief gave them [illegible] [illegible] of paying fines and costs each or else remain under bonds until the return of the Court. With one accord they went down for the amount and now stalk forth in the clear light of heaven free men.

TAXES D[illegible].—From the report of the City Marshal of East Portland it appears that he has collected $739 53 of delinquent city taxes. At present the total delinquent list is $[illegible] of [illegible] the Oregon and California Railroad Company are delinquent on rolling stock the sum of $[illegible], leaving a balance of $82 14 delinquent on other [illegible] city.

RECORD OF CRIME.—During the month of July 83 arrests have been made by the police classed as follows: Drunk and disorderly [illegible], larceny [illegible], assault and battery, 12, perjury 1, selling whisky to prisoners [illegible], abusive language [illegible], keeping a bawdy house [illegible], refusing to [illegible] streets 1.

TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.—The regular monthly meeting of the [illegible] Temperance Alliance will be held this Tuesday afternoon at [illegible] o'clock in the basement of the Presbyterian Church.

FIRST WHEAT OF THE SEASON.—[illegible] Vaughan [illegible] [illegible] of Wil[illegible] Forks [illegible] Harrisburg Mills on the 30th day of July the first wheat of the season [illegible].

BUSINESS NOTICES

Observe the card of John A Beck elsewhere. He has [illegible].

If any one has doubts about the truth of the statement made by Beck & Waldman and he has to [illegible] make proper inquiries at their establishment. He will be convinced that everything is true in every little time.

Breme & Son are out in an announcement about the new store which they have fitted up in good style. Their stock is complete in every particular. Housekeepers will do well to step in and see what they have and how they sell goods.

For Fine and Artistic Photographs go to Buel & Stolte 91 and 93 First street the only first Class Gallery in the State.

NEW WORKS

LYMAN'S HISTORICAL CHART.—Presenting the world's history by centuries and containing all the prominent events of the civil religious and literary history of the world from the earliest times to the present day. This ingenious contrivance of Lyman is recommended by the first names in the scholastic world. It makes the study of history delightful, and brings it within reach of all, like the map for geography we have the chart for history and it is just as essential. It is also as cheap as it is useful. It is invaluable to all students families teachers, literary and public men. This chart is a wonderful help to the memory bringing the eye to the aid of the mind locating facts and events of the world's history by centuries time being represented as a stream presenting contemporary nations by different colored streams flowing parallel, when a nation begins, the stream begins spreading out under the eye the history of a century and in such shape that at a glance the mind takes in the general aspect of the whole period the relative importance of each nation the particular history of each and the contemporaneous history of [illegible] and the mind is compelled to imbibe and retain the facts which are given both to the eye and the thought. The key of the chart goes with it.

POETRY AND SONG.—Compiled by William Cullen Bryant the American poet. An unsurpassed collection of poems classified and arranged by the genius of Mr Bryant embracing every kind of poetry with a masterly introduction on poets and poetry by William C Bryant. Illustrated with frontispiece of Mr Bryant and sixteen steel engravings and twenty six autographs of distinguished authors [illegible]. No [illegible] should be without it.

WOMEN IN SACRED HISTORY.—Being a series of sketches exhaustive chapters drawn from scriptural historical and legendary sources by Harriet Beecher Stowe giving entertaining views and a history of womanhood under Divine culture tending toward that high ideal of woman which we have in modern Christian countries illustrated with sixteen chromo lithographs being facsimiles of the productions of the grand masters Raphael and others who have in the past ages more than the present day singled out the Bible notable representative characters for the display of their arts [illegible] [illegible] reduced in size [illegible] and Mourey of Paris to chromo oil colors [illegible] [illegible] and selling at the price of one ordinary chromo.

AMUSEMENT

Madame Bishop and her [illegible] Excellent company will [illegible] this evening at Masonic Hall will re-[illegible] their first appearance in the city will be doubtless greeted by as large and intelligent an audience as is generally ever assembled in Portland. The world wide reputation sustained by the great queen of song needs no feeble testimonial of our bids. The other members of this most excellent company come to us with flattering recommendations from both press and public. Mrs Mariner is considered one of the leading sopranos on the Pacific coast. Mr Walter Campbell is said to possess [illegible] musical and rich voice [illegible] the natural qualities of which have been added all the graces of cultivation. Mr [illegible] of acknowledged abilities while Mr Lask is a pianist has but few superiors on the coast. Three concerts will be given this present week —on Tuesday Thursday and Saturday evenings. Lovers of fine music should certainly avail of the present opportunities and attend one or more of these concerts. Seats can be secured by calling at Gray's Music Store.

Prof Geo W Jester the [illegible] with the talking Hand will give an entertainment this evening at the Museum [illegible] commencing at [illegible] o'clock. It will be a rich treat and will afford all who attend an opportunity of examining the many wonderful curiosities at the Museum.

THE RELIEF COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

That part of the Relief Committee's report which referred to the system of relief adopted in the case of the Chicago fire was abridged in the daily papers yesterday as to leave it quite incomplete. We give that portion of the report entire this morning.

Chicago in 1871 it was estimated, covered an area of 30 000 acres upon which were [illegible] buildings at a total valuation of $[illegible] with a population of 334,270. The fire of October 8th and 9th 1871 burnt over 2,100 acres (somewhat more than [illegible] the incorporated limits) destroyed [illegible] buildings and their contents as follows:

Improvements (buildings &c)	$53,000,000
[illegible]	[illegible]
Manufactures	[illegible]
Other [illegible] property	[illegible]
Personal effects	[illegible]
Miscellaneous	[illegible]
Total	[illegible]

The number of persons thus rendered homeless at the commencement of winter in a cold climate was [illegible] and about [illegible] were killed during the progress of the fire.

The organized aid to sufferers, after a lapse of a few days, was in charge of the Chicago Aid and Relief Society. We regret that we have not their later and complete reports but from what information we have we gather that on the 18th of November following, the amount of donations from all sources and we may say from all parts of the globe was $2 [illegible] actually paid in, and the estimated amounts collected but not received would swell the amount to [illegible].

As to how and to whom this relief was granted we quote from a circular issued by the Superintendent to the Society's employes October 24th. "You will therefore see the pressing necessity that not a single dollar be appropriated for persons able to provide for themselves no matter how strongly their claims may be urged by themselves or others. * * Clerks and persons unaccustomed to out door labor if they cannot find such employment as they have been accustomed to, must take such as is offered, or leave the city. * * * Give no aid to any families who are capable of earning their support if fully employed except it be to supply some needed articles of clothing bedding or furniture, which their earnings will not enable them to procure and at the same time meet their own expenses of food and fuel. * * No aid should be rendered to persons possessed of property either personal or real from which they might by reasonable exertion procure the means to supply their wants nor to those who have friends able to relieve them. Our aid must be held sacred for the aged infirm widows and orphans and to supply to families those actual necessaries of life which with the best exertions on their part they are unable to procure by their labor."

The penalty of disobedience was instant dismissal.

From the first special report of the Committee November 20th 1871 we quote the following:

ESTIMATE OF EXPENDITURES OF CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY FOR SIX MONTHS FROM OCTOBER [illegible] 1871 TO APRIL [illegible] 1872.

J E EVANS Observer

Portland August 1 1874.

In these times when men count their coin before expending any considerable sum, it is conclusive evidence that money is decidedly scarce and a man is calculating on the best and surest mode of making the most of what spare change he has. Now in buying clothing the buyer reflects before making a purchase. He wants to know when, by expending the least money he can at the same time receive something fully worth the money expended. We would advise all in want of something substantial as well as cheap to call on Beck & Waldman.

Young America talks base ball the politician thinketh of the next election, the dispenser of the ardent is happy since the license has been reduced, the crusaders have discontinued their warfare on the saloons and the merchant awaits the next customer. During the heated term a suit of light clothing is in order. Where to get the desired article is the question. That is easily answered. Beck & Waldman can provide what is wanted. Interview them on the subject.

SELLING OUT!

Digestion consists essentially in a solution of the aliment in gastric juice. Whatever promotes the free and healthy secretion of that juice will favor digestion. The reverse is true. What perhaps impedes or impairs it will impair or impede the digestive process. The basis of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS accomplish this desirable work and its ever increasing popularity is but the natural result of its merits.

The Good Old Remedy.—It will not do when your horse is attacked by the numerous ills which afflict equine nature to try experiments. Besides the suffering of the useful beast you endanger his life and your money. It is safest to have always ready the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT which everybody knows about. For nearly two decades of years this remedy has been used and invariably with success. It may do to try experiments with [illegible] things but not with medicines. It is dangerous. Therefore take the Mustang. It will bring man and horse through all right.

TUESDAY MORNING AUGUST 4, 1874

ARKANSAS CARPET BAGGERS

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE CONGRESSIONAL SUB COMMITTEE

The rival claimants Governor Baxter and Mr Brooks were both present during the day—Governor Baxter for a short time only. Governor Baxter was subpœnaed at the request of Brooks' counsel and examined as follows, at [illegible] worn by Chairman Ward

By Mr Whipple—Have you in your possession the official returns of the election of 1872 as handed in?

Governor Baxter—To my knowledge I have not

Mr Whipple—Have you ever had them in your possession or control?

Governor Baxter—Not to my knowledge

Mr Whipple—Did you not say in a speech at Lewisburg on July 4 1872 that you had them?

Governor Baxter—Yes (a small sensation) when inducted into office I saw a lot of returns. I always supposed them to be the ones referred to. Ex Governor Hadley requested me to let him have them. I gave them to him afterwards I sent Adjutant General McCanans after them. They were given back, and on examination proved to have been the returns in the Presidential election

There was considerable amusement during the examination of R A Emerson (colored) election clerk in Eastman township in this county at the election of 1872 who testified that after the polls were closed the ballot box was brought to this city and opened about eleven at night. He left about four having signed a blank return. He knew the vote for Baxter was [illegible] used though he did not do it that [illegible] supervisor of election under the act of Congress, became disgusted at the mode of counting and left. He said that Mitchell the election clerk who did the raising, told him that Governor Baxter had appointed him clerk of White county which position he now holds in recognition of his services. Emerson said he was out a good deal during the counting and did not see much of the raising

Mr Rice (one of Brooks counsel)—You did not propose to be unusually numerous?

Emerson—No (Laughter)

Riley Thompson (colored) judge of election of the same township testified to Brooks tickets being received at the window held in the hand until a sufficient number had accumulated then torn up and Baxter tickets substituted. There were more tickets than names in the box, so Mitchell added names to make up for the number of tickets

By Brooks' counsel—Was anybody present inside the room where the ballot box was except the judges and clerks?

A—Yes. Roland (candidate for County Clerk) came in and treated us to champagne and whisky. I came to town after the others met Colonel Oliver (candidate for Sheriff) got a dollar went and took a drink and some supper then went to where the others were with the ballot box

Colonel Howard for Governor Baxter contented himself simply by asking Jackson who he was for in 1872

A—Baxter

Q—Who this last time?

A—Brooks.

During the sitting of the Convention and committee the monotony of the proceedings were agreeably relieved by the beating of drums and the tramp of the State House militia in and about the State House yard and in the rear of the Benjamin block just opposite —N Y Herald, July 23

THE WAR OF CATS

In the burlesque novel which Punch is now publishing, after the French of Victor Nogo (Victor Hugo) the following remarks on cats appear in connection with the passage of the hero through the streets of London at night

"Antonerolv muttered to himself Heigho! and passed along the deserted streets

"He seemed to be treading on the silent tombs of the nameless and the forgotten.

"He heard the march of cats through the darkness

"They rushed to an attack with loud cries, springing up suddenly from every quarter—areas, roofs balconies, lamp-posts gutters lanes, passages courts alleys and thoroughfares

"They flew up the trees in the squares, and [illegible] readily found the crescents

"All their habits were nocturnal

"The feline rule is always to appear unexpectedly

"How many tragic sights have been witnessed by the statues of the metropolis!

"At Antonerolv's footstep the cats fled filling mews after mews with their unearthly cries

"Quiet neighborhood—back street. These words sum up the whole of the Feline War

"They live in purr lieus

"It is a quarrel of localities of family against family tabby against tortoise shell pussy cat against pussy-cat.

"All our attempts our movements in legislation and in education our encyclopedias our philosophies, our genius our glories, all fail before the cats

"Could its youth be trained?

"The cat's cradle has ever been a puzzle

"They love blind alleys. Strange blindness

"A colossal scuffle, a jangling of Tittums an immeasurable rebellion. Without strategy, without plan chivalric and savage appearing like fantastic black shadows, tails of the past the devastation of glass the destruction of flower pots in back yards the ruin of squares the terror of invalids—such is the sleepless warfare, the unreasoning effort of the Puss cat

"Antonerolv passed on among the vanishing shadows"

HAD HIM THERE.—This good joke is from the Detroit Journal of Commerce. A member of the Saginaw county bar was recently in one of our thriving interior towns on professional business. In the office of the hotel he was accosted by a very agreeable gentleman evidently of the genus drummer who wanted to know where he was from? The legal gentleman not relishing the stranger's familiarity answered shortly "From Detroit" The next question was "For what house are you traveling?" "For my own" "You are? May I ask your name?" "You may" Pause—enjoyable to the lawyer, embarrassing to the other "Well (desperately) what is your name?" "Jones" "What line are you in?" "I don't understand you sir" "What are you selling? (impatiently)" "Brains" (coolly) The drummer saw his opportunity and looking at the other from head to foot he said slowly "Well you appear to carry a d—d small line of samples." Blackstone says he owes that drummer one

SENATOR JONES.—Rev Mr Lacy at the late First Congregational Church anniversary in San Francisco related the following story. Rev Mr Lacy said that he remembered being invited by a young man to go to Crystal Springs to marry him. He did so. When the young man handed him a fee which seemed to the speaker large enough he apologized evidently believing it too small and said that at some future time he would enlarge it. Afterward he met the young man again and he brought up the subject and again said he wanted to give more but was not then able to do so. "I have never" said the speaker "met Senator Jones of Nevada from that day to this. When we get to building some great thing I mean to remind him that he did not pay all he intended to and to tell him that half a million or so given to the church will make it up"

THE CUBANS DESTROYING PLANTATIONS AND ARMING NEGROES.—New York July 30.—Cubans here have received news by way of Havana to the effect that the patriot troops have destroyed a number of plantations in Trinidad valley and that planters are abandoning their property there for fear of being captured and because the Spanish Government cannot give the necessary protection. The President of the Cuban Republic has ordered Captain Carpu to destroy everything he can lay his hands on. Cabo the negro captain at the head of a number of emancipated negroes is in the neighborhood of Cienfuegos, wrecking plantations and enlisting slaves and coolies in the patriotic ranks. A general uprising of negroes under Cabo is daily expected. They have captured several military maps which show the position of forts pit falls, picket-stations etc

CLEVER AND GENEROUS.—"Why don't you pitch into Beecher?" queried a correspondent of the Louisville Courier Journal Because, said the Journal "when God lays his hand on a man we think it time to take ours off"

ANNOUNCEMENT is made elsewhere of the tragedy of the "Massacre of Gen Canby" which will be rendered at Oro Fino Theater to-morrow evening. Full particulars in the next issue.

The tone of the local money market remains quiet and easy with an adequate supply of available funds to meet even a more extended demand than the one now running for the market. The condition is unchanged in all important respects, the rates for money being about as last reported. Business which continued very fair up to the middle of last month is somewhat less active at present owing to the attention of the country at large being directed to the work of harvesting

Our Eastern exchanges note a [illegible] state of activity in trade centers for the season though the summer dullness of course is generally prevalent

The operation of the new currency law in the opinion of Treasurer Spinner will not lead to inflation. Its aim says he is to destroy the monopoly feature in our otherwise almost perfect system of banking and at the same time to compel all National banks to redeem their circulating notes in legal tender notes now and in gold when specie payments shall have been resumed at a common center. And through this in the meantime giving the people a clean and decent as well as a convertible currency. These much desired objects have been accomplished by this new law. To what extent the free banking clause that permits the creation of banks to all alike and at the same time permits existing banks to retire the bulk of their circulating notes and continue their business or to withdraw the whole and go out entirely is a measure of inflation will appear from the fact that since the passage of the law existing banks have already returned $1 900 600 and that but $70 000 in new currency has been applied for since that time. So it appears that under the operation of this free banking system the national bank currency has in the course of three weeks been reduced within a fraction of $2 000 000. This is certainly anything but inflation of the currency. A very short time will says the Treasurer satisfy all reasonable persons that the law is conservative and that while it tolerates perfect freedom and equal rights to all it was conceived in and based upon correct principles of banking and of finance

Grain and Provision Report.

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business Monday July 20th contained 2 896 01[illegible] bushels of grain embracing 1 366 [illegible] bushels of wheat 1 144 844 bushels of corn [illegible] 671 bushels of oats 370,[illegible] bushels of rye and 5 707 bushels of barley against [illegible] bushels one week ago and 4 [illegible] 143 bushels at this period last year

Milwaukee warehouses at the close of business on Saturday July 18th contained 1 009 [illegible] bushels of wheat 52,169 bushels corn, 20 [illegible] bushels of oats 1[illegible] 8 bushels of rye

New York warehouses contain 1 1[illegible] 000 bushels of wheat, 61[illegible] 000 bushels of corn [illegible] 000 bushels of oats 28,000 bushels of rye, [illegible] 000 bushels of malt and 13 000 bushels of peas

The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada July 11th was Wheat, [illegible] bushels corn 8 003 956 bushels, oats [illegible] bushels barley 8 601 bushels

The exports of breadstuffs and provisions from the ports of Portland New York Philadelphia Baltimore Boston and New Orleans for the week ending July [illegible]th were Flour 67 600 barrels wheat, 1 435,000 bushels corn 1 09[illegible] 000 bushels pork 4 062 barrels bacon 4 [illegible] 000 pounds lard, 2 785 000 pounds.

Miscellaneous.

Mr Wm Reid of the Oregon Shipping Co of Scotland in one of the papers of this city suggests that to disabuse the minds of shipowners and underwriters of the unfounded prejudices against the Columbia river bar "all the merchants importers and traders of Portland should meet together procure and get printed all the various authentic reports and surveys of the bar the certificates given heretofore by masters of foreign ships the proportion of disasters compared with the number of arrivals and departures for ten years and detail the large increase of shipping to and from Oregon during the last three years. A printed copy of these together with a united protest or representation to underwriters signed by every merchant here against the extra insurance and craving for its reduction to ordinary rates (similar to those charged on San Francisco bound ships) should be forwarded to every underwriter in Europe and the United States"

Should the export trade be brisk and prices for wheat remain at the present figures the income from Oregon's surplus wheat this year will not fall short of three and three quarters million dollars. The wool clip marketed here this spring and summer has brought about three quarters of a million. So the wheat and wool products this year amount to $4 500 000, or $45 to each inhabitant

It is stated that the Attorney General has advised the Controller of the Currency that under the new law the legal tenders which have not been issued, amounting to some four millions of the original $[illegible] 000 000 may now be redistributed. He has also given the decision that the provisions of the old law in regard to the deposit of bonds from newly organized banks to secure circulation are still in force

A San Francisco paper of July 30th says of the wool trade during the week ending that date that little has been done refers chiefly to Oregon and Northern California. There is yet in market a few parcels of low grade California but they are altogether neglected. Prices for Oregon and Humboldt wools remain at about last quotations with no disposition to make large purchases. The steamer John L. Stephens from Oregon brings 125 bales. The range for Oregon fleece 27@33c—say for Eastern Oregon 2[illegible]@30c choice 32a33c Humboldt fleece 29@ale Nevada, 25@30c. The Oregon crop is estimated to be one fourth greater than that of 1873. Sales for the week 250 000 lbs in the aggregate

Last week the steamship Tartar sailed from San Francisco for the Colonies with 5 000 bags Oregon oats and 6 000 cases Columbia river salmon etc

One hundred boxes of Oregon cherries shipped to San Francisco steamer before last were received with much favor and sold at 12@15 cents per lb

The San Francisco Commercial Herald of July 30th speaking of the freight market says. There is very little animation discernible in the market with but few charters offering. The current rate for grain to Liverpool is £3 17s 6d and to Cork for United Kingdom £4. Most of the ships arriving come to hand under previous charter and at extreme rates. The present tendency of freights is toward a lower standard. Railroad ties to Peru are carried hence at $10 gold. Ship [illegible] 1 019 tons is now reported to load railroad ties to Molendo Peru.

The ship Governor Morton which sailed from San Francisco for Liverpool on the 16th of May with [illegible] centals wheat valued at 71 [illegible] sprung a leak on the 10th of June in latitude 31 30 S longitude 1[illegible] W and on the following day bore up for San Francisco. She arrived off the Heads July 27th showing signals of distress and was towed in to port. She will probably have to unload for repairs

In the recent examination near the middle Farallon off the entrance to San Francisco Bay by Assistant Gershom Bradford a sunken rock was discovered. The rock has 3½ fathoms upon it at low water with deep water from 5 to 15 fathoms close around it but with a large [illegible] on a break has been seen upon it by pilots and the lighthouse keeper. It lies S 25 degrees W distant three eighths of a mile from the Middle Farallon and N 7[illegible] degrees W distant two and a quarter miles from the South Farallon lighthouse. The water between this rock and the Middle Farallon reaches eighteen fathoms, and from 15 to 20 fathoms between it and the South Farallon

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from venereal poison into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrible situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it is too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted [illegible] and those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who in most all cities publish their [illegible] and in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures [illegible] Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society, loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

Married Men

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars cash in registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells Fargo & Co a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiries—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates pretended patients' letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street corner Commercial San Francisco, Postoffice Box 1 957. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1 957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE

Correspondents will please inform DR GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN jy6d4p

Near and Far Sightedness and Imperfect Vision of every kind, Scientifically Treated.

"OCULIST and OPTICIAN are regarded as synonymous terms by nearly all classes of the community and Opthalmic Surgeons fail in their duty if they do not teach the public that an Oculist alone can make a proper and correct examination of the human eye and decide what glass and whether any should be worn by the patient and the Optician's business should be confined entirely to preparing and fitting in a proper frame the glass directed by the former exactly as an Apothecary compounds and puts up the medicine prescribed by the Physician." CLOUD-BURSTS.

It seems that the phenomena of cloud-bursts have not been confined exclusively to Nevada, but seem to have visited various portions of both the American and European continents. Yesterday we published an account received by telegraph of a flood in Austria, by which a town was destroyed and a number of persons lost their lives. To-day we publish an account of an appalling calamity by which the suburbs of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, were destroyed and a large number of lives lost in addition to which our local and neighboring exchanges come to us laden with accounts of cloud-bursts in our immediate vicinity. So long as these occurrences were confined to Nevada we had a theory in regard to them—which we mentioned last week, viz that owing to the well known fact that the large amount of snow which fell last winter, did not, in melting, drain into the streams and water courses as usual, but [illegible] to be absorbed by the earth. Shortly preceding the series of [illegible] commenced two weeks ago the heat of the sun had been intense, therefore we theorized that this great heat had sucked from the earth the water which had seeped in from the melting snow, which forming into vapor was held in suspension in the form of clouds, until by some sudden contact with the mountaintops, or from gravitation, those clouds bursted, precipitating a volume of water upon the earth. But the occurrence of similar phenomena in Austria and Pennsylvania knocks our theory out of time, and induces the belief that there must be some general cause. Last Thursday was the day set by scientists for the earth to be touched by the gas of which it is supposed the tail of the comet is composed, and the occurrence just about that particular time of these waterspouts is to say the least of it, a very singular coincidence, and gives the color of probability to the suggestion that the appearance of the comet would create more or less atmospheric disturbance and exercise a greater or lesser degree of influence upon our planet. The subject of the relations of the comet to this earth, in view of these cloudbursts and other disturbances of nature, becomes an interesting one, worthy of the research of natural philosophers and men of science, and we hope that some of these will investigate the matter and succeed in shedding some light on the subject —Reese River Reveille, July 28

A THRILLING INCIDENT

A MAN BECOMES PARALYZED AND NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH ON THE RAILROAD

(From the Truckee Republican July 28.)

A singular and thrilling incident occurred on the eastward bound passenger train on Sunday two miles east of Rose creek near Winnemucca. The train was on a heavy down grade going at a high rate of speed making up for lost time when the engineer Nick Cole, thought he saw an obstruction on the track a few hundred yards ahead. The locomotive whistled "down brakes," the lever was reversed, and every effort possible made to stop the train which was under tremendous headway. As the train approached the spot the object proved to be a human being lying with his body across the track. The man (for man it was) was alive fully conscious of his mortal peril, but unable to move from his position. He had pulled out his handkerchief as a signal, however and was waving it with his hand. Thanks to the Westinghouse brakes and other means used, the train was brought to a stand still when the engine had arrived within a few yards of the helpless man. The man was found to be paralyzed and was picked up placed on board the train and taken to Winnemucca where he was provided for at the Hospital. He states that while walking along on the track he fell down completely paralyzed in his limbs and body, and could not move himself an inch. When he saw the train coming he expected to be crushed to death and his feelings were too horrible to express. He screamed, threw his arms up frantically and waved his handkerchief. The event is among the most thrilling of railroad incidents

ALICE BLANCHE OSWALD.—It will be remembered, says the London News of the 11th ult that in September, 1872, a young American girl named Alice Blanche Oswald, who had come to England from her native land with a Scotch lady, who, it was said, turned her out of doors, committed suicide, when perfectly friendless and forsaken by throwing herself into the Thames off Waterloo Bridge. The history of the deceased was a very sad one, and many American ladies and gentlemen as well as several English benevolent people determined to give the girl a respectable interment, which took place a few days after the event in the Necropolis Woking. A committee chiefly composed of American ladies was formed to erect a simple monument over the grave of the deceased. It has now just been completed. It consists of a rustic cross in marble resting on a [illegible] of rocks chiseled out of white marble. On a slab placed on the rocks is the following inscription: Alice Blanche Oswald—[illegible] friendless Orphan. Died of despair in the [illegible], 5th September 1872 [illegible] 19 on the 20th [illegible] month. By Thy infinite goodness for[illegible]. The monument will be placed over [illegible] in a few days

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE CONGRESSIONAL SUB COMMITTEE

The rival claimants Governor Baxter and Mr Brooks were both present during the day—Governor Baxter for a short time only. Governor Baxter was subpœnaed at the request of Brooks counsel and examined as follows after being sworn by Chairman Ward

By Mr Whipple—Have you in your possession the official returns of the election of 1872 handed in?

Governor Baxter—To my knowledge I have not

Mr Whipple—Have you ever had them in your possession or control?

Governor Baxter—Not to my knowledge

Mr Whipple—Did you not say in a speech at Lewisburg, on July 4, 1873 that you had them?

Governor Baxter—Yes (a small sensation) when inducted into office I saw a lot of returns. I always supposed them to be the ones referred to. Ex Governor Hadley requested me to let him have them. I gave them to him; afterwards I sent Adjutant General McCain my after them, they were given back and on examination proved to have been the returns in the Presidential election.

There was considerable amusement during the examination of R. W. Emerson (colored) election clerk in Eastman township in this county at the election of 1872 who testified that after the polls were closed the ballot box was brought to this city and opened about eleven at night. He left about four having signed a blank return. He knew the vote for Baxter was raised though he did not do it; that Giles supervisor of election under the act of Congress, became disgusted at the mode of counting and left. He said that Mitchell the election clerk who did the raising told him that Governor Baxter had appointed him clerk of White county which position he now holds in recognition of his services. Emerson said he was out a good deal during the counting and did not see much of the raising.

Mr Rice one of Brooks counsel)—You did not propose to be unusually numerous?

Emerson—No (Laughter)

Isley Thompson (colored) judge of election of the same township testified to Brooks tickets being received at the window held in the hand until a sufficient number had accumulated then torn up and Baxter tickets substituted; there were more tickets than names in the box so Mitchell added names to make up for the number of tickets.

By Brooks counsel—Was anybody present inside the room where the ballot box was except the judges and clerks?

A—Yes Roland (candidate for County Clerk) came in and treated us to champagne and whisky. I came to town after the others met Colonel Oliver (candidate for Sheriff), got a dollar went and took a drink and some supper then went to where the others were with the ballot box.

Colonel Howard, for Governor Baxter contented himself simply by asking Jack on who he was for in 1872

A—Baxter

Q—Who this last time?

A—Brooks

During the sitting of the Convention and committee the monotony of the proceedings were agreeably relieved by the beating of drums and the tramp of the State House militia in and about the State House yard and in the rear of the Benjamin block just opposite—N Y Herald July 23

THE WAR OF CATS

In the burlesque novel which Punch is now publishing after the French of Victor Nogo (Victor Hugo), the following remarks on cats appear in connection with the passage of the hero through the streets of London at night

"Antonerolo muttered to himself Heigho!' and passed along the deserted streets

He seemed to be treading on the silent tombs of the nameless and the forgotten

He heard the march of cats through the darkness

They rushed to an attack with loud cries, springing up suddenly from every quarter—areas, roofs, balconies, lamp-posts gutters lanes, passages courts, alleys and thoroughfares

They flew up the trees in the squares and raced madly round the crescents

All their habits were nocturnal

The feline rule is always to appear unexpectedly

How many tragic sights have been witnessed by the statues of the metropolis!

At Antonerolo's footstep the cats fled filling mews after mews with their unearthly cries.

Quiet neighborhood—back street! These words sum up the whole of the Feline War

They live in purr-lieus

It is a quarrel of localities of family against family, tabby against tortoise shell, pussy-cat against pussy-cat.

All our attempts our movements in legislation and in education our encyclopædias our philosophies our genius our glories all fail before the cats

Could its youth be trained?

The cat's cradle has ever been a puzzle

They love blind alleys. Strange blindness!

A colossal scuffle a jangling of Titans, an immeasurable rebellion. Without strategy without plan chivalric and savage, appearing like fantastic black shadows, tails of the past the devastation of glass the destruction of flower pots in back yards the ruin of squares the terror of invalids—such is the sleepless warfare the unreasoning effort of the Puss cat

Antonerolo passed on among the vanishing shadows '

Had Him There.—This good joke is from the Detroit Journal of Commerce. A member of the Saginaw county bar was recently in one of our thriving interior towns on professional business. In the office of the hotel he was accosted by a very agreeable gentleman evidently of the genus drummer who wanted to know "where he was from." The legal gentleman not relishing the stranger's familiarity, answered, shortly "From Detroit." The next question was "For what house are you traveling?" "For my own." "You are? May I ask your name?" "You may." Pause—enjoyable to the lawyer embarrassing to the other. "Well (desperately) what is your name?" "Jones." "What line are you in?" "I don't understand you sir." "What are you selling?" (impatiently). "Bruns" (coolly). The drummer saw his opportunity and looking at the other from head to foot he said slowly "Well you appear to carry a d—d small line of samples." Blackstone says he owes that drummer one.

Senator Jones.—Rev Mr Lacy at the late First Congregational Church anniversary in San Francisco related the following story. Rev Mr Lacy said that he remembered being invited by a young man to go to Crystal Springs to marry him. He did so. When the young man handed him a fee which seemed to the speaker large enough he apologized, evidently believing it too small and said that at some future time he would enlarge it. Afterward he met the young man again and he brought up the subject and again said he wanted to give more but was not then able to do so. "I have never said the speaker met Senator Jones of Nevada from that day to this. When we get to building some great thing I mean to remind him that he did not pay all he intended to and to tell him that half a million or so given to the church will make it up."

The Cubans Destroying Plantations and Arming Negroes.—New York July 30.—Cubans here have received news by way of Havana to the effect that the patriot troops have destroyed a number of plantations in Trinidad valley and that planters are abandoning their property there for fear of being captured and because the Spanish Government cannot give the necessary protection. The President of the Cuban Republic has ordered Captain Cespedes to destroy everything he can lay his hands on. Cabo the negro captain at the head of a number of emancipated negroes, is in the neighborhood of Cienfuegos wrecking plantations and enlisting slaves and coolies in the patriotic ranks. A general uprising of negroes under Cabo is daily expected. They have captured several military maps which show the position of forts [illegible] packet stations etc.

Clever and Generous.—"Why don't you pitch into Beecher?" queried a correspondent of the Louisville Courier Journal. "Because said the Journal "when God lays his hand on a man, we think it time to take ours off"

Announcement is made elsewhere of the tragedy of the Massacre of Gen. Canby which will be rendered at Oro Fino Theater to morrow evening. Full particulars in the next issue.

The tone of the local money market on this point and easy with an adequate supply of available funds to meet every want [illegible] extended [illegible] in the one now running in the market. The condition is unchanged in all important respects the rate for money being about as last reported. Business which continued very fair up to the middle of last month is somewhat less active at present owing to the attention of the country at large being centered in the work of harvesting

Our Eastern exchanges note a reason [illegible] activity in trade center for the season though the summer dullness of course is generally prevalent

The operation of the new currency law in the opinion of Treasurer Spinner will not lead to inflation. Its aim says he is to destroy the monopoly feature in an otherwise almost perfect system of banking and at the same time to compel all National banks to redeem their circulating notes in legal tender notes now and in gold when specie payments shall have been resumed at a commercial center. And through this in the meantime giving the people a cheap and decent as well as a convertible currency. The combined desired objects have been accomplished by this new law. To what extent the free banking clause that permits the creation of banks to all alike and at the same time permits existing banks to retire the bulk of their circulating notes and continue their business or to withdraw the whole and go out entirely is a measure of inflation will appear from the fact that since the passage of the law existing banks have already returned $1,900,000 and that but $30,000 in new currency has been applied for since that time. So it appears that under the operation of this free banking system the national bank currency has in the course of three weeks been reduced within a fraction of $2,000,000. This is certainly anything but inflation of the currency. A very short time will says the Treasurer satisfy all reasonable persons that the law is conservative and that while it tolerates perfect freedom and equal rights to all it was conceived in and based upon correct principles of banking and of finance.

Grain and Provision Report

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business Monday July 20th contained 2,336,012 bushels of grain embracing 1,[illegible] bushels of wheat 1,1[illegible] bushels of corn [illegible] bushels of oats, 8[illegible] bushels of rye and [illegible] bushels of barley against 3,47[illegible] bushels one week ago and 1,[illegible] bushels at this period last year

Milwaukee warehouse at the close of business on Saturday July 18th contained 10[illegible] bushels of wheat 169 bushels corn [illegible] bushels of oats 1,0[illegible] bushels of rye

New York warehouses contain 1,1[illegible] bushels of wheat (1[illegible] bushels of corn [illegible] bushels of oats 25,000 bushels of rye [illegible] bushels of malt, and 13,000 bushels of peas

The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada, July 11th was Wheat [illegible] bushels corn, 8,003,986 bushels oats 1,[illegible],880 bushels barley 8[illegible] bushels

The exports of breadstuffs and provisions from the ports of Portland New York Philadelphia Baltimore Boston and New Orleans for the week ending July 18th were Flour 67,000 barrels wheat, 1,4[illegible],000 bushels corn 1,0[illegible] bushels pork 4,062 barrels bacon [illegible] pounds lard 2,780,000 pounds

Miscellaneous.

Mr Wm Reid of the Oregon Shipping Co of Scotland, in one of the papers of this city suggests that to disabuse the minds of shipowners and underwriters of the unfounded prejudices against the Columbia river bar all the merchants importers and traders of Portland should meet together procure and get printed all the various authentic reports and surveys of the bar the certificates given heretofore by masters of foreign ships the proportion of disasters compared with the number of arrivals and departures for ten years and detail the large increase of shipping to and from Oregon during the last three years. A printed copy of these together with a united protest or representation to underwriters signed by every merchant here against the extra insurance and craving for its reduction to ordinary rates (similar to those charged on San Francisco bound ships) should be forwarded to every underwriter in Europe and the United States

Should the export trade [illegible] and prices for wheat remain at the present figures the income from Oregon's surplus wheat this year will not fall short of three and three quarters million dollars. The wool clip marketed here this spring and summer has brought about three quarters of a million. So the wheat and wool products this year amount to $4,500,000 or $45 to each inhabitant

It is stated that the Attorney General has advised the Controller of the Currency that under the new law the legal tenders which have not been issued amounting to some four millions of the original $44,000,000 may now be redistributed. He has also given the decision that the provisions of the old law in regard to deposit of bonds from newly organized banks to secure circulation are still in force

A San Francisco paper of July 30th says of the wool trade during the week ending that date that little has been done refers chiefly to Oregon and Northern California. There is yet in market a few parcels of low grade California but they are altogether neglected. Prices for Oregon and Humboldt wools remain at about last quotations with no disposition to make large purchases. The steamer John L. Stephens from Oregon brings 920 bales. The range for Oregon fleece 27@30c—say for Eastern Oregon 27@28c choice 30c; Humboldt fleece 2[illegible]@31c; Nevada, 25@30c. The Oregon crop is estimated to be one fourth greater than that of 1873. Sales for the week 2[illegible]0,000 lbs in the aggregate

Last week the steamship Tartar sailed from San Francisco for the Colonies with 4,000 bags Oregon oats and 6,000 cases Columbia river salmon etc

One hundred boxes of Oregon cherries shipped to San Francisco steamer before last were received with much favor and sold at 12@14 cents per lb

The San Francisco Commercial Herald of July 30th speaking of the freight market says. There is very little animation discernable in the market with but few charters offering. The current rate for grain to Liverpool is £[illegible] 17s 6d and to Cork for United Kingdom £4. Most of the ships arriving come to hand under previous charter and at extreme rates. The present tendency of freights is toward a lower standard. Railroad ties to Peru are carried hence at $16 gold. Ship B[illegible] 1,013 tons is now reported to load [illegible] to Mollendo, Peru

The ship Germania Maid while sailed from San Francisco for Liverpool on the 16th of May with [illegible] centals wheat struck a leak on the 10th of June in latitude 11 30 S longitude [illegible] W and on the following day bore up for San Francisco. She arrived off the Heads July [illegible] showing signals of distress and was towed into port. She will probably have to unload for repairs

In the recent examination near the middle Farallon off the entrance to San Francisco Bay by Assistant Gershom Bradford a sunken rock was discovered. The rock has [illegible] fathoms upon it at low water with deep water from 5 to 1[illegible] fathoms close around it but with a large sea on a break has been seen upon it by pilots and the lighthouse keeper. It lies S [illegible] degrees W distant three eighths of a mile from the Middle Farallon and N [illegible] degrees W distant two and a quarter miles from the South Farallon lighthouse. The water between this rock and the Middle Farallon reaches eighteen fathoms and from 1[illegible] to [illegible] fathoms between it and the South Farallon

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street corner Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services will find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering on a miserable existence in the effects of secret indulgences of from venereal contagion, the system [illegible] pallid countenances [illegible] faces and the [illegible] [illegible] disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this frightful condition thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible distressing [illegible] [illegible] immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases a special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury. [illegible] are [illegible] a circular of [illegible] all cases [illegible] in a few days. Imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from London and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice [illegible] [illegible] practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of evil symptoms and its concomitants; by scientific and local measures viz pallid countenance, dark [illegible] under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs, confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in a registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells Fargo & Co a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades—some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates, pretended patients letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial San Francisco Postoffice Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE
